Frank Oberlin

Principal

RVi Planning + Landscaping + Graphic Design

Experience: Oberlin was previously a regional president and partner with WeldenField Homes. Before that, he was vice president of acquisition and strategic planning for Taylor Woodrow Homes, director of sales and marketing for Steiner Ranch and commercial real estate department manager for Bank One. At RVi, he is responsible for expanding development consulting services and helping landowners, banks and other property owners add value to their assets through property positioning, entitlement enhancement and financial analysis.

Education: Bachelor of science in building construction, Texas A&M University, 1983.

Bob Richardson, president of RVi, says: "Frank's extensive experience in commercial lending, development and construction will be a great asset to our clients."
